tion and trade show of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association March 28-29.

The former Texas Governor also said foreign markets for U.S. livestock and beef should be expanded and that he favored the labeling of imported beef so consumers could know when they are eating foreign meat.

Other program speakers were Texas Governor Dolph Briscoe, TSCRA President J.A. Whittemburg, III, National Cattlemen's Association President Dick McDougall, Raymond M. Moloboss of the Pacific Legal Foundation, TSCRA Secretary-General Manager Don C. King, Anoa Fay Friedlander, editor of Solar Engineering Magazine, and Texas Cattleman President Emma Lee Collier.

John E. Armstrong of Kingsville was elected president of the 14,000-member producer group headquartered in Fort Worth. Also elected were John S. Cargile of San Angelo as first vice president and Frates Seeligen of San Antonio as second vice president. Don C. King was reappointed secretary-general manager.

Named to the board of directors were John Dudley of Comanche, Richard J. Gates of Catarina, Henry Clay Kooz of Placedo and Chris Lacy of Alpine.

In his president's report, Whittemburg told the group that TSCRA had been very active on the legislative front and cited 18 issues on which testimony or policy statements had been filed during the year. On the national and state level, he gave the Association good marks for its legislative efforts, but warned that many issues warranted continued attention.

Whittemburg underscored the optimism about cattle prices expressed by most cattlemen attending the convention.

"I do hope the price swing will move upward at a rate which will help us avoid consumer resistance at retail level," he said, but he should have several years of good times, providing the industry with a widespread drought.

In his secretary-general manager report, King said the Association's field inspectors, commissioned by the state as Texas Rangers, had solved 135 theft cases, primarily involving cattle theft, with a property value in excess of 1.8 million dollars. The average value of property recovered or accounted for on a daily basis was $3,658.38.

The Texas CowBelt held its Texas Beef Cookoff in conjunction with the TSCRA meeting and election. Mrs. Nolly Bradshaw of Abilene, her "country briske" recipe, represented Texas in the national contest in Oklahoma City Sept. 1. The annual trade show featured everything from helicopters to paintings to balling wire draw and local broadsword and pistol contests. Almost 100 exhibits were on display during the convention. The text TSCRA convention was held in Houston March 11-14. The next TSCRA quarterly directors meeting will be in College Station June 2-3, 1978.

Schroeder also accused the nation of creating car shortages and said if current export contracts were filled the U.S. would run out of grain.

USDA reported a surplus in the Southwest reflected no grain in winter wheat acreage and the fertilizer manure situation was a drain on the budget. In the Southwest also reported that in date they had not seen indications of a drastic crop cutback.

Stuph & Thangs

Bergland or any other Big Wig they could find. The meatin' was adjourned post haste while Bergland raced to a cooler climate.

A similar hasty retreat took place as representatives of the Food Safety & Quality Service, including Administrator Robert Angelotti, had to hold a meetin' with meat industry people concerned over the New Federal Meat Grades. This session originally slated for the USDA South Building led to a basement auditorium in the Smithsonian Freer art gallery, far from the militant farmers might find 'em.

Angelotti was his usual supremely contemptuous self and insulted the meat industry spokesman in about as crude a demonstration of bureaucratic high handedness as you are likely to see. He informed 'em he had not gone shopping for meat since age 12. Which, we presume, makes a meat authority out of him. He also informed these meat people, who happened to be about as knowledgeable a group as you could assemble, that he felt the meeting was wasted. "Provide us factual information," Angelotti yelled. "We're not running a popularity contest. What I've gotten today is at no use to me. What I've gotten is mostly emotion," Angelotti said.

Obviously Angelotti is another of those bureaucrats who does not want to be confused with any facts. Angelotti had his legal counsel along and when it was suggested that the proposed new regulations were illegal, they scoffed at the idea. So it looks like another trip to the Courthouse may be in order for the Meat People to convince Mr. Carol Tucker Farman, and her boy Angelotti, they do not yet have the Divine Right.

Incidentally, the new "in" word among the bureaucrats is "Government Influence". This was explained by HUD Administrator Mr. Patricia Harris in defending the new Urban Development plan. She explained it this way: Government can "influence" whether the Cities and Mayors develop inner city real estate and work programs with Government power of the purse. After all, Government Influence sounds nicer than Government Coercion, but it's synonymous. These thinly veiled threats by Carter's crop of ex-Naderites, Consumer radicals, etc., which are sandwiched into the Bureaucracy are getting thinner and thinner and this arrogance is causing Jimmy much trouble. However, in the case his problem in Mr. Harris, she has been declared "fire proof" and the only way he can correct this mistake is to make her quit in frustration. It'd take more guts than he's shown yet to fire a black female woman, don't you think?

Ever think, TheEddler. TheEddler's Brazil trip was sure wasted money & effort. After getting disagreement from President Galt when he tried to hustle in an their human rights & nuclear power, he capped the climax by meetin' with a group of anti-government dissident priests before takin' off for Africa. So much for hurrin' policy. Dunk notes where President Carter plans to announce a really tough program to control inflation in the near future. So far it appears euthanasia in Defense Spandin', while the Soviet's widen their lead, seems to be the main thrust. Dunk

says don't be surprised if we get price controls don't surface, soon, too. Dunk reports a Federal Court in California ruled that USDA's rules concerning issuance of emergency food stamps were not legal. USDA's rule was that if the recipient demonstrated proof as if a non-member of the household said there was need and any be issued once every six months. Nay! Nay! The court said there could be no limit and no confirmation of need was allowed. No wonder the food stamp program gets bigger & BIGGER! — TheEddler, Brather!

Field Day to Be Held June 3 at Kirby's A-OK Ranch

Everyone is invited to come to the H.O.T.S. That's the Heart of the Star Field Day to be held June 3 at M.F. Kirby's A-OK Hereford Ranch at Lometa, Texas. The Field Day will encompass the Capitol Area, Hill Country and Mid-Texas Hereford Association areas with breeders from throughout the state exhibiting cattle. The combination field day — exhibit — and cattle breeding seminar is a repeat of a very successful field day held at the ranch last year. The program will begin at 9:00 a.m. Saturday, June 3 with some well-known Hereford authorities headlining the program. A judging contest will kick the day off with guests invited to try their skills at matching the official placings made by a judge from Texas A&M University. Next will be Show and Tell — the exhibit of individual Hereford breeder's cattle including some well-known herd bulls. Each exhibitor will "Show" their cattle then "Tell" about their breeding program. Bar-B-Que lunch will be served, followed by an address from Craig Ludwig of the American Hereford Association explaining the "Total Performance Records" program. Dr. Tony Sorenson of Texas A&M University and Head of the Fertility and Genetic Section will discuss "Optimum Cow Size and Fertility of Females". Dr. Sorenson is a foremost authority on handling and breeding of heifers in his genetics work and will stress this area in his address. He should have a great deal to offer interested cattlemen. Dr. Bob Church of Calgary, Alberta, Canada, will discuss another very important aspect of the livestock industry — "Marketing", followed by Gene Wiese of Manning, Iowa, past president of the American Hereford Association and partner in Wiese & Sons. Wiese's topic will be "Tomorrow, Tomorrow and Tomorrow", as he helps us take a look at the future of the Hereford breed. The field day will be hosted by Kirby and co-sponsored by the Capital

Hereford Steer Show Set For 1978 American Royal

Open to Hereford and Polled Hereford steers owned by junior exhibitors, the show will feature total steer evaluation combining on-hoof and carcass appraisal. Co-sponsored by the AHA, APHA and the American Royal, some $4,000 in premiums will be paid to youth participating in this show.

Steers eligible for the show must be sired by a registered Hereford or Polled Hereford bull and be out of a straight-bred Hereford or Polled Hereford cow. Exhibitors will be asked to verify the parentage of their steers and provide production information such as animal's birth date and breeder to the respective breed associations several months prior to the November show.

Classes will be established by age, with calves dropped March 1, 1977, and after being eligible for

Greater Hill Country Hereford Bulls Avg. $911, Females $656

Fredericksburg — Seventy-eight bulls sold for an average of $911, and 29 heifers for an average of $656 to buyers at the Greater Hill Country Hereford Assn.'s annual Spring Sale here March 11, according to Secretary this event. Following class placings, their evaluation will continue as they will be slaughtered with carcass information then being collected to determine their final standing. The overall champions and other final rankings will be determined 40% on hoof and 60% on carcass. Premiums will be paid for both categories. The show is designed to represent today's industry needs. Therefore, to qualify for carcass premiums, steers will meet minimum standards for growth and quality and yield grade. Juniors interested in this unique event should contact either breed association for more information and certification forms.
